

We are the people of Mangilik El

Leader of the Nation Nursultan Nazarbayev suggested a clear and consistent plan of reforms – the Plan of the Nation in the form of 100 specific steps.

And in its realization not only the state, but also each of us at their own place: at the desk, within the walls of new production units, in the offices of the civil servants, on the sports rings, in the business sphere is responsible.

I have identified several fundamental basics in this plan.

The first one - the program of five reforms is the basic element of our modernization. The Assembly of People of Kazakhstan is the main institute of the future nation.

The whole infrastructure of the important body representing a single nation from more than 100 ethnic groups and 17 confessions, is systematically and reasonably built: the Strategy of the Development of Kazakhstan till 2050, which became the logical continuation of the previous “Kazakhstan-2030”.

The plan is objective and specific.

It is absolutely functional, acting document with a number of important peculiarities.

There are several of them:

Now, a future servant of people has to confirm their competences through a three-stage system of selection. And, until after the trial period of 3 and 6 months they will not be satisfied. Honestly, I do not envy future civil servants. But that is good: Let those become civil servants who realize the measure of responsibility.

Consider step 11. Now, the people of Kazakhstan will compete not only at the civil service among each other, but also with foreigners. The competition is tough, but the state must be an honest manager - it is not important what kind of passport the manager-specialist attracted to the civil service has, the matter is that the people of Kazakhstan get better from their performance.

How not to recall a great Mao with his multi-colored cat.

Now for thieving people there is one more obstacle – everything will be fixed on video and audio. And the button “pause”, “stop” or “delete” are not under their control. I am for the full transparency in the judicial sphere. I support the second unit of President’s 100 steps – confident, clear and certain.

Step 69 is explained by the history of our new capital. Astana “will transfer into business, cultural and scientific center of Eurasia, attracting researchers, students, entrepreneurs and tourists”. By organizing the “Nevada-Semey” movement the first thing with which we came across was the access to honest and objective information: how many explosions and of what intensity they were on the long-suffering land of Abay and Mukhtar Auezov.

And step 94 will facilitate the implementation of their citizenship position for future public figures, just indifferent people: the new system of the access to information is carried out.

Once again I assure myself that Nursultan Nazarbayev is moved by great romantic aims, but when it comes to the implementation of them he is a tough and effective pragmatist.

Just the spiritual tasks coupled with healthy pragmatism will make us the Nation of the future!

Thus, the cementitious link to implement the program of the institutional reforms is the formation of the Nation of Common Future.

I would propose to write exactly like that – with capital letters. We are not just people inhabiting the spaces of Eurasia, the ninth territory in the world! We are the people, having mastered geography, transferring the minuses of the landscape into pluses, people, who gradually, systematically and with truly common Kazakhstani obstinateness and persistence did not only go through the most difficult periods of our history – war, collectivization, famine, repression, but also survived in spite of History.

These are we, as the President said, the people Mangilik El!

The President’s wisdom is in the fact that he, being the core of complex historical and political processes can indicate by huge, deep in content, laconic ideas – the Barys of Central Asia, during the period when we had just begun our way on the political map of XX century as the independent state, Intellectual nation of the future and Madeni mura, when the soonest concentration of its scientific and intellectual-educational form, collection worldwide and revision of the most important artifacts of historical and cultural past. The Industrialization program – when on the land where the close-knit and professionally competent in many spheres people, and in the depths of which practically all the wealth of the Mendeleev table is hidden, had to create new productions again and modernize already functioning ones. At last, the powerful concept Mangilik El is the quintessence of the deep vision of international political and economic topography and its way of development – the program “Nurly Zhol”.

The second pivot is the phenomenon of national leadership, special style of strategic planning and state governing, Kazakhstan way of social development realized in the society of the professionals – the Society of Common Labor, unique formulae of interethnic and inter-confessional accord, and, at last, effective foreign doctrine of multi-vector policy – these are “Az i YA” of Nazarbayev model.

Kazakh young Tulpar of our statehood is strong, enduring and is ahead of us at the milestones of a long way.

The third pivot is the “Nurly Zhol” program. As a person, carefully belonging to the Word, Language, History, I can not take into consideration the fact that this year a certain parade of planets, non-random occurrence of significant historical dates: 550 years of the Kazakh Khanate, 70 years of Great Victory in the World War II, 20 years of the Assembly of People of Kazakhstan, 20 years of the Constitution, year of the active implementation of the Nurly program. This program will help us in the overcoming of the geographical distance of numerous historical and scientific events.

XX century is the century of the confrontation of ideologies. The following XXI century shows clearly that there are no tough ideologies and for our statehood it is our century!

On the one hand, the values of our people are unique – a conservative approach to the institute of family, respect to the ancestors and own genealogy, careful attitude to language, literature – oral and written heritage and traditions, esteem towards the people of knowledge, science, ecological consciousness.

On the other hand, it is the space-time mobility, extremely effective responsiveness to the novelties. At last, the ability to comprise and accept a person from a different culture. People of Kazakhstan with such a complex of unique qualities have the future, which is real and clear. It is a bright way of people of Kazakhstan – Nurly Zhol.

In reality, blocks II and IV in the program “100 specific steps” – “Provision of Rule of Law” and “Identification and Unity” are the ideological frameworks of the Nation of the Common Future!

Twenty years’ time in the historical space can be just a moment, but for Nurultan Nazarbayev it was enough to consolidate the foundation of the nation of common future .

In the Kazakh culture there are outstanding achievements of the ancient times that are of the heritage of the world culture.

The fourth pivot is the Mangilik El, idea of the life-asserting powers of our nation, its commitment not only to survive, but also to compete with other nations. .

Our President correctly noted that there should not be any boundaries among ethnic groups in Kazakhstan. Today, we realize that at the place where the national idea becomes the ultra-nationalism, the state loses the right for existence, it just falls apart. As opposed to it, the healthy patriotism based on love for the nation, its citizens, history and leaders is needy.

Our model of interethnic unity was successfully presented in the UN and translated into 60 languages. It became the main theme in more than 100 meetings of Kazakhstan’s diplomats with the UN, UNESCO, OSCE experts.

I believe that the people will be eternal if they adapt to the modern conditions. It is important for the new generation to strive for knowledge. This idea is clearly written in the paragraphs 72 and 79 in “100 specific steps”. Singapore managed to accomplish this, and we will also be able to. I devoted more than one book to the mutual understanding and influence of words, meanings and culture.

The fifth pivot is the ambitiousness of the nation of Kazakhstan expressed by the ambitions of joining 30 top world countries.

It is important in reliance with the principles of the “Strategy-2050” to join 30 most developed countries, what will allow with the help of our culture, traditions, language to become one of 30 top world cultures.

In the industrialization policy proposed by N.Nazarbayev the idea of development and success in the economy of Kazakhstan.

In fact, Kazakhstan is a new model of the world, where people of different nationalities, confessions, cultures and traditions do not only live, but also develop, where, side by side, the standards of Eastern and Western cultures are practiced and improved.

It is significant to follow the principles of the Nation of the common future, to preserve the “huge” wealth of the Kazakh culture and history, its Turkic vector and not to lose ties with the world economy, policy and culture.

I firmly confirmed that the wise, far-sighted policy including the “Strategy-2050”, five institutional reforms in the form of the clear program “100 specific steps”, principles and values of “Mangilik El”, course of the “Nation of single future” will provide further harmonious development of the people of Kazakhstan.
